History	Liberation Front <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Born in mid-to-late 1980's (Cesare Terini) breakaway faction of the Bindi army (too willing to compromise with Acta on exploitation on the Chos region) Grown due to unemployed and resentful-to-the-Bindi-high-life youth Many of them have gone to the Outside Totalitarian Power for more training May have several thousand members Major enemy – Acta, which carries out periodic raids and exploits its resources without investing Inner groups with more violent tendencies Leaders have bank accounts in the West – help finance, recruit, transport and train rebels	AROMA - capital Kings Mountain villagers People going to US (Nebraska, Iowa)	BOSTA – capital WW1&2 – With Allied Powers (US, etc.) Beach of Dreams Bay of Pleasure Luxury Islands Port Storm Liberal democracy – right wing = harsh measures to counter the threat of Chos People going to US (Nebraska, Iowa)
1892			No more a colony, after an intense war
Early 90s	They discovered the gold through the UNDP geologists coming after the earthquake, and thus they started to get weapons and training from OTP, and also start a campaign for a corridor to the sea	8.1 earthquake – thousands dead, millions of USD aid King was overthrown by General Bho (dictator), recognized by the international community General Bho uses the aid money for himself, military or secret police
1993	Uprising - terrorized Bindi communities 10 Chos captured by Bindi – in Bosta prison	Thought to support Chos	Imposed economic sanctions on Acta. Heavily armed border patrols in Chos region!
2001	Started to target civilians, extremists formed their own groups
2003 spr	Armed attacks	Acta invaded Bindi Border in order to destroy the	Bindi threatened to counter attack Acta

	After the upcoming events, released a rare and deadly biological agent to stop Acta and Bindi fight in the Chos region, even though Chos villagers and livestock was affected	camps
Reaction	Chunya, leader of CLF (chosen) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Concerned of the release of the bioagent Announced that CLF has not authorized the use of it Cooperate for containment Chunya was the one to make the others understand the gravity of the situation. He believes in <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a democratic procedure violence only against persecution has international credibility 	Tried to suppress all news from its citizens for 1day concerning the release of the bioagent. Day 2: agreed to work with the parties Meanwhile, continues to accuse Bindi and carry out military operations against Chos rebels Mobilized medical resources and sealed borders	Mobilized medical resources and sealed borders Contacted REMA, UN, WHO, US, EU for help American Bindians fear the spread and the effects (touristic region)
Status	Gold in the area Herdsman (former mountain warriors, proud of their independence and customs) No viable solution anyway you take it Military dictatorship CLF struggles with the perception that it has become a terrorist movement	1 Buzz = 0,10 USD /// GDP $400 per capita Agriculture = 70% - mostly subsistence. No export – any surplus production is sold at public markets. Opium poppy industry! Needs to negotiate with a hostile Bindi for access to Port Storm!!! Gold in Chos region?! LOW PRECIPT, MAX of 15C, MIN of 0C The precipitations in 1year = precipitations in Bindi, only in September	1 Bindian Bot = 0,75 USD /// GDP $5000 per c Tourism = 40% - beaches + ski, folk art Agriculture = 40% - tropical fruits High quality of primary education!!! International electronics companies!!! Recent discovery of GOLD!!! GOOD PRECIPT, MAX of 31C, MIN of 23C
Possible interests	Autonomy & independence
Possible fears

I grew up in an accommodated Dutch family, after WW2.

I'm DISCIPLINED and RELIGIOUS.

I learned at the University of Amsterdam and then Mastered at the Leiden University
International affairs, government and policy – Master in Political Science and Development Economics, and Ph.D. in socio-political history.

25 years – UN in Switzerland. One of the most effective UN SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVES for troubled regions.

5 years (until 1984) – deployed in Stockholm, SWE – Ministry of Health, alongside DR. ULLMAN (became friends – not to be mentioned during talks!).

3 times married (Barbara – Dutch, Laura – British, Brigitte – German), now SINGLE

APPROACH: at first, very balanced. Afterwards – quick resolution needed. Sometimes I created unpleasant situations by being rude and impatient.

Weird: bouts with alcoholism and depression.

Under UN resolution!!!

UN allocated $200 million to promote peacekeeping operations, immediate medical relief, containment of the bioagent, and refugee assistance.

Accustomed UN protocol:

1. Welcome all participants to the negotiating table
2. Guarantee personal safety to all delegations
3. Properly introduce all representatives and ambassadors
4. Provide a working framework – quality, mutual respect, willingness to solve the issues
5. Maintain civility, provide conclusions as needed

Priorities:

- a. CEASE-FIRE: use UN influence! Entice involved parties to seek diplomatic solutions.
 - a. SANCTIONS or MILITARY ACTION as an alternative
- b. PEACEKEEPING coordinated with REMA, US, EU
- c. BORDER: Rema to help for logistical support and monitoring of borders
- d. CHOSPOX: facilitate the work of WHO to contain the spread, and broadcast measures

Long-term:

- a. “Marshall” plan of economic and industrial development in the area – EU&US as partners
 - b. REFORMS: UN organizations and programs to foster educational, social, government and economic reforms in Acta&Bindi
 - c. MONITOR for violations of Human Rights and freedoms, and CONDITIONATE the support

Real attitude	Impulsive&sensitive Trying to be coercive Always looking to have the upper-hand Listen & counter-act through subtle means	?! Provide half-sentences & look for follow-up	Calm but often gets the upper-hand without a specific reason Potentially aggressive Give opportunity to talk & play with possible options	Very agile Talkative Can persuade easily Playful with words Always give the chance to come forward	Questioners Conflict disarmers Open-minded Potential to make ends meet Listen & use when needed	Asking for explanations A bit jumpy Use as a standard for assurance that everything is clear	Questioner Solution giver Analyser An important tool to go in non-conflicting situation
Fictive character

Outcomes

- Cease-fire during negotiations
- Foreign aid: US – 1 mil USD, administered by UN in the area
- Bioagent: sample to WHO, half when half of the Bindi & Acta troops are out and half of UN peace keepers are in, and all of it when there are only UN peace keepers
- WHO to come and have medical camps immediately under the protection of Bindi, Acta and future UN troops
- EU to support with 1 mil USD, and provide military troops in order to help UN peace keepers for WHO
- Acta to have an access to port Luxury Islands – the railway will be Bindian, the trains will not be checked by anyone. The port will be administered by Bindi & Acta
- Gold resources to be administered by a company chaired by a UN delegate, each country (A, B, C) having one third of the gold 51% - 24,5 24,5. After 10 years, the shares of Acta and Bindi will be bought by Chos
- Acta and Chos will build a railway through Chos, to the port.
- Chos autonomy: they will have a referendum for independence. Then, possibly elections with observers from all parties. UN will monitor for violations of Human Rights and freedom. REMA will monitor borders. They will have a representative in REMA

- US & EU – whatever is needed – money invested in Acta, Bindi, Chos and 50% of the profit will be administered by US&EU, while the other 50% will stay in the countries for development
- US to get names of Chos terrorists and those who sold the bioagent, and also a military base in Chos & Acta
- Plan to made 100% public after 1 week
